Group selection:

Groups A and B were selected from naturally forming clusters, split by the interstate.

Group A vs group B method of transportation

Conclusion:

Liberty St. is centrally located for the majority of group B, and many people in group A. The new location would either have no change, or be further from the most clients. Moving would also disproportionately affect those in group B because fewer people have access to private transportation. Therefore, the food bank should stay on Liberty St.
